The configuration of a laptop, to meet these system requirements, may in certain circumstances be carried out by our IT partner

This requires an analysis of the hardware and software of the concerned computer. This analysis will be carried out at the request of the participant during the procedures of the “Rentrée Informatique”.

A price estimate for configuration will be given (the participant will only be invoiced for materials and software to be bought).

Computers which are overly dilapidated or made by an unknown manufacturer will not be taken into consideration.
